

While Math in Context I is envisioned as the general entry course, a basic arithmetic course would still be needed as an entry course and as a supplemental course for some students enrolled in Math in Context I

